

CAN Do 2013

“Inspiring Change – Mainstreaming Cycling”

Cycling Advocates’ Network’s Annual Summit

Date: April 13 & 14

Location: Auckland, CBD

Pioneer Women’s Hall

(Cnr High St and Freyburg Place)

What work will be done at CAN Do and what will CAN DO Achieve?

CAN (Cycle Advocates Network) is an organisation of dedicated advocates contributing many professional skills and resources, related to cycling and sustainable transport, to local and national agencies, on behalf of the cycling public. CAN Do 2013 will update our communication & collaboration skills to make us more successful at local and national levels.

Aim of CAN Do:

- Agree on a communication system that will enable the highest degree of communication between cycle advocates and the New Zealand public, local groups, and between local groups and the national organisation.
- Create an organisational structure that enables frequent, easy communication so that local groups can be effective in their local area and can access the resources of the national executive when needed. To understand and maximise the resources available within the local groups to mentor and assist one another.

Outcomes from CAN Do:

- The local groups have more skills and resources that will empower them to better deliver local outcomes.
- The national executive will be better able to focus its resources on engaging at central government level, recognising that a voice in Wellington is vital. In this capacity it will act as a resource to local groups.

Who is invited?

- All CAN members
- All others who actively promote cycling in NZ & see this programme as beneficial to their work.

Go to CAN website or Facebook for more info re bike hire, programme, pre-event chat etc.

Registrations: $100 both days, $60 one day (Includes meals)
